

2025-2026 Leadership Development Committee Nominees (2-Year Terms)

Sean Hastings is a public school music teacher in Brooklyn and has been attending First U for the past two years, participating actively in both the young adult ministry and the choir. He has felt especially connected through the young adult ministry, where he's taken part in and led spiritual discussions, as well as other community activities.

Sean has had the joy of telling the children's wisdom story during service a couple of times—an experience that brings together my love of teaching and storytelling. Being part of this community has helped Sean to grow spiritually. He is excited for the opportunity to contribute more personally through serving on the leadership development committee.

Edwin Lord has been a member of First Unitarian for and I have been a member for almost 27 years. He quickly came to see First Unitarian as his spiritual home. Edwin has served on the Board of Trustees, as a long-term member of the Caring Ministry, served twice on committees for Intern Minister Evaluation. Edwin is a Deacon, a member of the Immigrant Solidarity Committee and the Women's Leadership Alliance, as well as a member of the monthly Book Club. On many Sundays Edwin serves as head usher.
